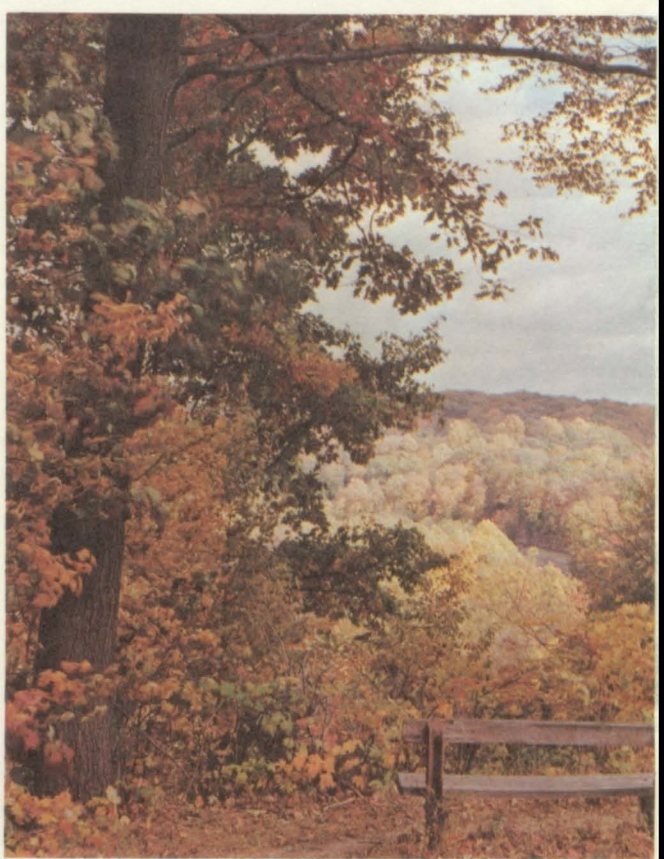
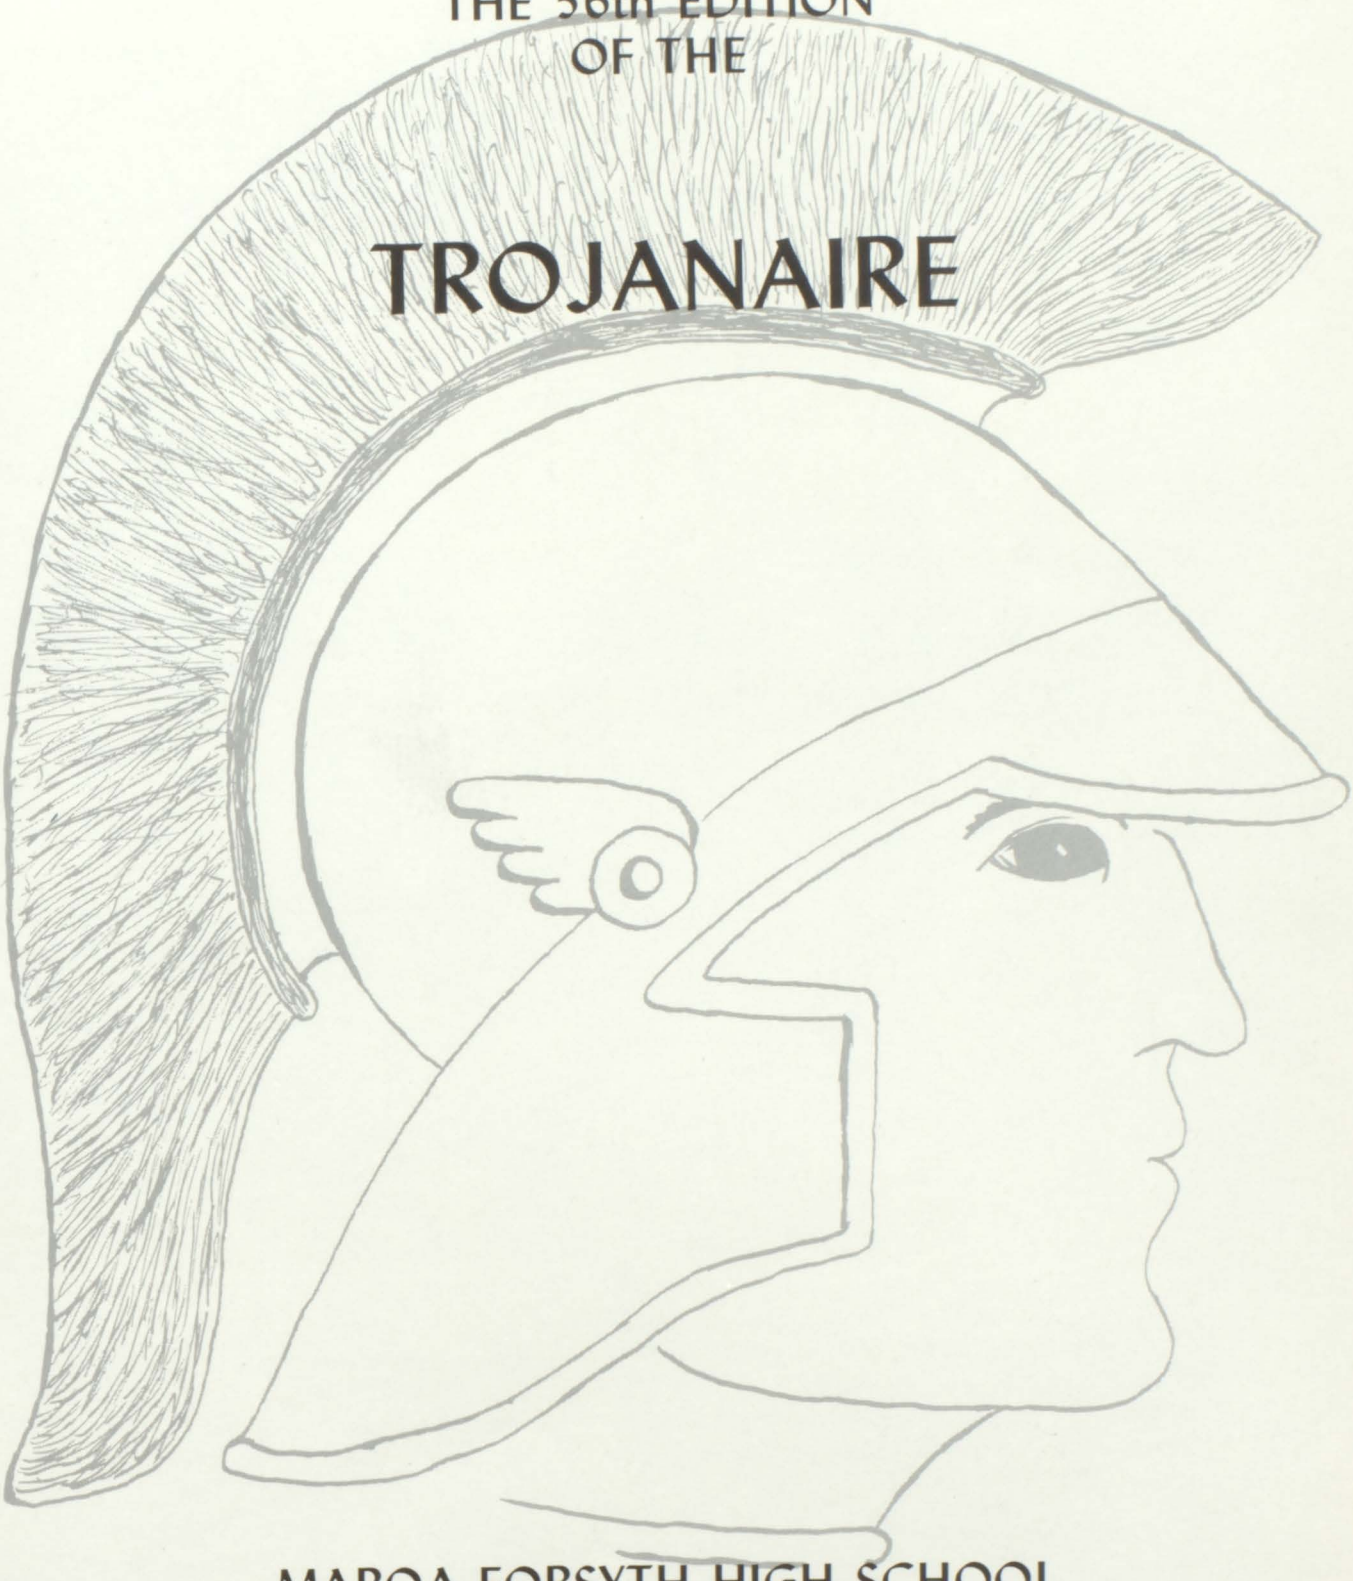
TROJANAIRE



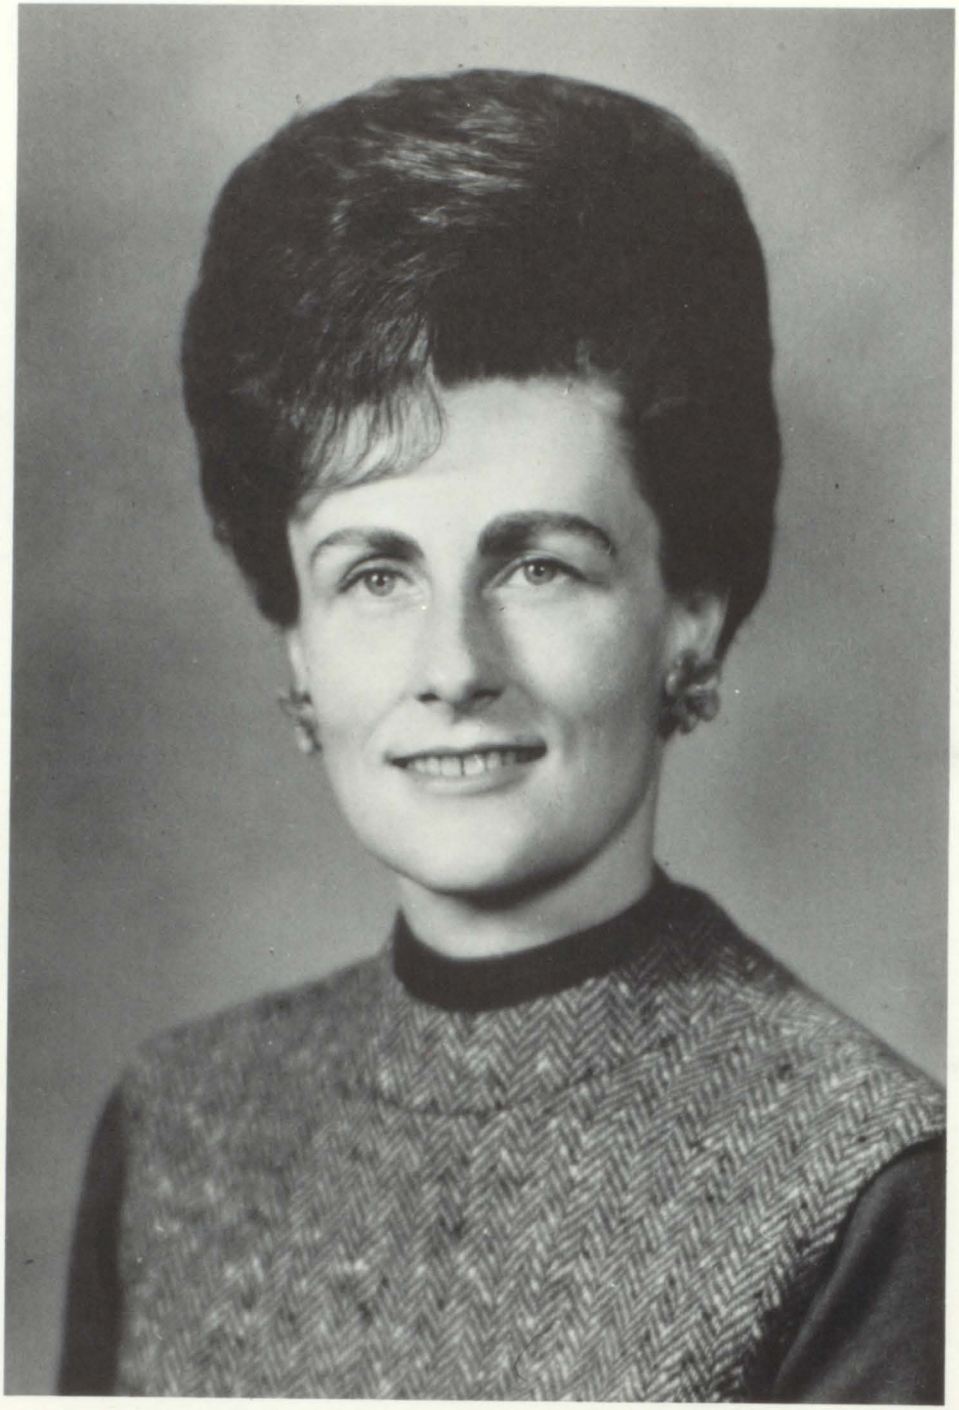
THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1970
PRESENTS
THE 56th EDITION
OF THE

TROJANAIRE



MAROA-FORSYTH HIGH SCHOOL
MAROA, ILLINOIS

DEDICATION



We, the Senior Class of 1970, dedicate the '70 Trojanaire to Mrs. Sally Diller in appreciation of all her help and guidance.

Mrs. Diller, who was our Guidance Counselor, always had a cheerful smile and a pleasant word. We would like to thank her for the many moments of cheer she added to our lives.

ADMINISTRATION

SUPERINTENDENT

Congratulations Seniors on your fine annual and on your many accomplishments during your past four years at MFHS.

You are going into a society that will be constantly changing and very demanding. I hope you will have the knowledge, perseverance and intestinal fortitude to cope with the problems that will face you.

I wish you happiness and success.

Richard L. Irvin

PRINCIPAL

Congratulations Class of 70! It has been a pleasure being both your sponsor and your principal.

May you have great success as you pursue your life's work and may your memories of Maroa-Forsyth High School be pleasant ones.

Good luck.

CLASS WILL

I, RICHARD ANDERSON, bequeath not one thing, because I want to keep what I have.

I, IMOGENE BECCUE, bequeath my ability to get along with teachers to Doug Chandler who really needs it, and my ability to keep my mouth shut to Leigh Turner who hasn't quite accomplished it.

I, STEVE BINGAMON, bequeath my old, taped-up glasses that I wear in 2nd hour P.E. and have had since 3rd grade, to Roger Dial so he will not have to squint to see the P.E. girls at the other end of the gym.

I, MARK COCHRAN, bequeath my "Come on Elmo" record to Ralph.

I, TINA COLE, bequeath my bruises from Mrs. Berry's P.E. class to my sister, Jan, who's bound to have her fair share.

I, JANIE COX, being of sound mind and body, bequeath my ability to keep my nose straight forward instead of stuck up in the air to Carole C. because her's always tends to be dragging the ceiling.

I, RUTH CRAIG, bequeath my ability to pucker to Tina Ferrill and Juanita Shirey, to use on their horns, or however they see fit to use it.

I, BRENDA CRUM, bequeath to Helen Phipps my ability to go out of state with my boyfriend and never get caught.

I, GLENDA CRUM, bequeath my ability to get out of P.E. because of my feet, to Carol Hamilton who really needs it.

I, CLIFF DOAK, bequeath my ability to stay out of detention study hall to Dave Thicksten who has had about 75 this year.

I, CAROLE EDWARDS, bequeath my cheerleading skirt to Mrs. Berry so she can let the hem out herself, and my ability to take my own advise to Jo Himes who seems to give a lot out.

I, STEVE GILLEN, bequeath all of my nicknames to any aspiring young athlete who wants them.

I, MIKE GREENE, being of sound mind and body, bequeath 2 brooms and 1 dust mop to the Maroa-Forsyth Bus Service, and 2 dust pans that they never had anyway.

I, STEVE GREENFIELD, bequeath my muscles to anyone who wants to shut Jo Himes' big mouth up, who, if had any brains, would be a public menace.

I, LARRY GROVES, bequeath my ability to sit through my classes without saying a word, and still come out on top, to any poor unfortunate soul at M.F.H.S.

I, TONY HALICKI, bequeath my golden sheep shears to Mr. Charles Wood to keep long hair shorter.

I, DENNIS HAMILTON, bequeath my ability to sit in a chair during class to Mr. Capsel who seems to sit on everything except a chair.

I, SANDEE HEINZ, bequeath my ability to tell clean jokes to Joe Vaughan, and my ability to have the wrong attitude in P.E. class to Jo Himes who has a great start.

I, DEBBIE HENDRICKSON, bequeath all the headaches and all the fun that goes with a yearbook to Kit S. and Gale S.

I, LINDA KITCHENS, bequeath my ability to graduate in four years to anyone who may need it.

I, KARLA LINN, bequeath my ability to not listen to Mrs. Berry to any underclassman who is tired of listening to her.

I, TONY LOPEZ, ... Censored.

I, BARB McCOOL, bequeath my ability to grin and bear everything you have to put up with, to anyone who hates this place as much as I.

I, BRENDA McDANIEL, bequeath my ability to keep my long hair clean to some underclassmen who need it.

I, JENIFER MARLOW, bequeath my ability to go along, good naturedly, with my freshman initiation to Salena Bragg.

I, MARY MARSH, bequeath the band to Mr. Warnick.

I, KAREN MOORE, bequeath my big full-length mirror to a certain Junior, so she can see her own body instead of commenting about a few ounces of excess weight on others.

I, BRENDA MORGRET, bequeath my ability for shooting arrows to Luann Wikoff who already has a good start.

I, JOHN MOYER, bequeath nothing to nobody because I can think of no one more deserving than myself.

I, MARCIA PENSE, bequeath my strong stomach to my kid sister, because she's going to need it when she starts going to this high school.

I, SAM PHIPPS, bequeath my ability to run from officers of the law to my little brother Dennis, who will need it next year.

I, CHARLES PORTER, bequeath to Pam Norman 1 Arabian horse, but since I don't own one, I leave her a little more height and weight.

I, VICKIE PRICE, bequeath my ability to say my gym clothes are clean when they aren't to Lynette Montgomery who says her mommy told her she didn't have to clean them.

I, DENNIS PULLIAM, being of sound mind and body, bequeath one slightly used slide rule to anyone demented enough to take physics or chemistry.

I, BONNIE ROBERTSON, bequeath my 20-20 vision and my ability to smoke without a cigarette to Mrs. Crane.

I, CHRIS ROBERTS, bequeath what little co-ordination I have to my younger brother, Brad, who at times is really a super club.

I, BOB SCHWARTZ, bequeath my ability to talk and have fun in class without getting detention to my brother Dick who needs it.

I, JAY SEABERG, bequeath this school to our faculty, they deserve each other.

I, JACK SHAW, bequeath my ability to eat alot to Jerry Wallace, who really needs it.

I, GREG SHULL, bequeath my ability to stay out of detention study hall to Dave Thickston and Joe Vaughan who are booked solid.

I, SUSIE SPRIGGS, bequeath my soap and deodorant to Mrs. Berry, to use on next year's smelly freshmen.

I, MARLA VAUGHAN, bequeath my shower stall in P.E. to Becky Jarvis so she will leave Evelyn Groves alone and stay in her own.

I, LINDA VOTAW, being of sound mind and body bequeath my sound mind to Linda Humphreys and my body to Deb Parker who needs a body.

I, DANNY VEACH, bequeath my "Golden" throwing arm, assorted rock collection and P.P.G. target set to Richard Bogle and Donnie Lewis (because it's more fun than borrowing wallets).

I, MARK WALTERS, bequeath to my brother Terry, my good looks and charm so he can finally get a girl before he graduates.

I, DIANNA WATERS, bequeath my four years of P.E. to Joni Schwabe, who is going to need it.

I, BRAD WILKEY, bequeath my ability to play basketball to the next year's basketball team.

I, RICHARD YOUNG, bequeath my coaching abilities and my ability to get along with people to someone who really needs them.

I, EDWARD YUNDT, bequeath my ability to sing the school song to anyone who is fool enough to sing it in my style.

I, DONNA LESLIE, bequeath my ability to get along with Mrs. Berry my first semester of my Senior year to Jo Himes.

CLASS HISTORY

When our class first clamored through the gold-plated doors at M. F. H. S. as freshmen, we could honestly say that we knew everything. Out of the shining halls of Maroa and Forsyth Grade Schools we came, and on into the ivy league at Maroa High. The 67 intellectual members of our class were living proof that the American teaching method was the best in the world. Our officers were the cream of the crop - as president, the honorable Steve Bingamon presided, and in his staff were heard such names as Mary Marsh, vice-president; Chris Roberts, secretary-treasurer; and Mark Walters, reporter. Yea, though many times we became lost, we could always count on the excellent guidance of Mrs. Berry and Mr. Brandt, our class sponsors.

In our freshman year we found out that we knew just a little more than nothing and by the time the sophomore year came around we had developed those inward characteristics of modesty, shyness, and gratitude. (We didn't win the spirit stick once.) Our modest, shy, and grateful army consisted of only 60 members and our commanders were the envy of all. The dynamic duo Steve Bingamon and Steve Gillen were president and vice-president, and Brad Wilkey was secretary-treasurer. At homecoming Richard Young was second attendant. Carole Edwards was the F. F. A. sweetheart, and at the Christmas Dance, Richard Young was first attendant and Carole Edwards was second attendant. Mr. Brandt was bruised, but still hanging on as sponsor. Mrs. Berry, however, had resorted to the less strenuous activity of volleyball.

During our sophomore year, only 53 brave souls had the stamina to stick it out until our junior year. Yet somehow, even though we were outnumbered, our class still remained superior to all. That year, our brilliant, ever wise officers were Barb McCool, president; Richard Young, vice-president; Marla Vaughan, secretary; and treasurer was Janie Cox. Our homecoming float received 2nd place with the theme of "Pour It On." Richard Young was first attendant and Barbara McCool was second attendant at the homecoming dance. Richard Young was also the king of the Mardi Gras Dance and Carole Edwards was first attendant. The two greatest accomplishments of the year were the junior-senior prom which was held at Southside Country Club and the junior-senior play entitled, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay." Mr. Brandt and Mr. Wood were our sponsors.

In 69, again the dynamic duo returned to rule but this time they were switched around. Steve Gillen was president and Steve Bingamon was vice-president. Marla Vaughan held the office of secretary-treasurer. At homecoming the real beauty of our class shone through with Barb McCool and Richard Young as queen and king and with Janie Cox and Tony Lopez, both first attendants. Our float placed 2nd, with the theme "Don't Jack a Victory." Mr. Brandt left this year, apparently figuring that it's easier to fill up a car's tank than it is to fill our heads with knowledge. However, Mr. Capsel took his place as sponsor along with Mr. Wood.

WE ARE SENIORS
WE ARE HEAVENLY
WE'RE THE CLASS OF 1970

CLASS PROPHECY

In the year 1980, we travel back to our old home town, now the growing metropolis of Maroa-Forsyth. At long last these two towns are linked together. We have come to look up all our old school mates.

First, we decided to have a look at the old school. Coming upon it, we see the site has been condemned. What a shock to us! We thought it was an ageless, immortal, always functioning building. Already we see workmen tearing the place down. Calling one over we realize this is Danny Veach, he tells us that John Moyer, Tony Lopez, Richard Anderson, and he have volunteered to tear down the school bit by bit with their bare hands.

We see the new school and decide to visit the principal, Mr. Robert Schwartz. He is in the process of trying to change the state rules to meet his demands. We notice women at strategic places in the halls and we try to find out what they are for. We talk to Linda Kitchens, Marla Vaughan, and Sandee Heinz. They are hired to check to see that the girls' dresses aren't too long and that the boys' hair isn't too short.

We inquire as to whether any of our class mates have become teachers. Mr. Schwartz said, "Chris Roberts is now the P.E. teacher at M.F.H.S." Mrs. Berry taught her all her unique techniques. He also said that Steve Bingamon has resumed the post of his older brother as Fifth Hour Study Hall teacher. His brother had to retire because of a nervous break down after the year 1969-1970.

While still there, Mr. Schwartz told us about a few of our classmates that had become famous. Debbie Hendrickson has just taken over Patricia Stevens and changed the name to Debbie Hendrickson's School of Beauty Culture. We knew all her graceful ways in high school would get her some place, some day. From further inquiry we found out Debbie hired a few of our old classmates to teach at her school. Tina Cole is teaching, "How to become Sophisticated." Janie Cox is also teaching. She is teaching a "Shape-up" course.

After we left the high school we drove down a side street and saw private street signs reading "Slow Children Playing." We also saw about 15 children playing in one yard. We finally realized this is Richard and Barb (McCool) Young's house.

As we stroll down what used to be Main Street, we see a mob running after a figure. As they come closer, we realize it's the famous Mark Walters, author of "My Views on the Female Sex" of which he is willing to talk about to anyone who will listen.

It is at last almost noon, and we travel to the famous Waldorf Community Cafe. As usual it is packed full with all of the "better people." We finish our appetizing hamburgers, and start our looking over the town. It is exactly noon, and as the noon whistle blows, people begin running off the streets and grabbing children and taking them inside the houses. We look at each other wondering what is going on. At last we see! A gang of motorcycles are speeding down the street. The leader is "Sonny", alias Steve Greenfield, He leads a gang including Sam Phipps and Brad Wilkey. These wildmen terrorize the town from 12:00 to 12:30 in order to be home in time for their favorite television show, "Romper Room." We talk to them briefly and find they are shortly going to leave for California.

After this, we are traveling down a familiar street of the old town. This is the street that Miss Bonnie Robertson lived on - now she is Miss Demolition Derby Queen of the World. She received all her practice backing into every car she could find in high school. Tony Halicki briefed Bonnie on the safe driving rules. Tony is now the Driving Instructor at Maroa-Forsyth High.

Besides Mark, many other authors have come from Maroa-Forsyth. Susie Spriggs is now the famous author of "1001 Ways to Give a Horse a Bath." Vickie Price is also a well known novelist. She wrote "201 Ways to Fool a Polock."

While talking to Vickie about her book, she told us Brenda McDaniel and Ruth Craig have just released a smash record, "We're So Pretty."

Early the next day, we had our hair done at Imogene Beccue's Coiffure. I hope we can get some of the curl out of our hair in time for the big game tonight.

Later in the morning we ran into Jay Seaberg, and he told us he has opened up a new teen dance club. He got all his experience working at the Morgue during high school. Jay told us of the new hospital being built south of Forsyth. Dianne Waters and Glenda Crum are going to be the head nurses. The Maroa-Forsyth city council decided to call the hospital the "Have Faith" Hospital.

Finally, it was time for the basketball game. As we entered the door of the gymnasium we found Brenda Crum welcoming people to the game. Clifford Doak and Steve Gillen have become the Varsity and Junior Varsity coaches. Their most famous players are Charles Porter, Dennis Pulliam, and Greg Shull. These three players are known all around the world for their unique dribbling skills. At half time we went to the basement for some refreshments and we saw Carole Edwards working at a candy stand. As we came closer, we saw she was selling Clark Candy Bars.

The evening ended with a victory for Maroa, who won by 83 points. So a good evening was had by everyone - on the Maroa-Forsyth side that is.

On our third day in Maroa-Forsyth, we rose early to take a drive in the country to see if anything had changed out there. We see a farm truck approach. Larry Groves tells us that Mark Cochran is the Executive Vice President of the Max Factor Corporation in New York. Other farms we see on the way are, Marcia Pense's farm, the largest ranch in the world with Edward Yundt as the foreman. Also we pass Jack Shaw's Christmas Tree farm; Jack has made Maroa the Christmas Tree capital of the U.S.

Brenda Morgret has also won National fame, she is the Nations best archer, she got all her practice on Mrs. Berry's archery team. Mary Marsh has won a gold medal in the Olympics; she received all her training from Mrs. Berry, the best swim coach Mary has ever had.

Donna Leslie has married the president of Bob Jones Academy. She liked it so well down there she found a way to stay.

There were still a few of our old classmates that we couldn't find any traces of, so we went to visit Linda Votaw, who is now running the Decatur Tribune. Linda told us what Karen Moore and Dennis Hamilton were doing. Karen is now a housewife in Peoria with two children. Dennis Hamilton is running a chain lumber plant for his father in Naperville, Illinois. Mike Greene was the only one left that we couldn't find much information about. Linda said that the last she heard about him he was in Chicago running the Playboy Club for Hugh Hefner while he was on vacation.

We finally looked up all our old classmates and decided we should be on our way back home. So we, Karla Linn and Jenifer Marlow, started back to Detroit, Michigan. We both missed our families very much and we were sure that they missed us. We left Maroa-Forsyth thinking of the past and wondering what the future would bring for the class of 1970.

HOMECOMING IN '69

Homecoming in '69 was held later in the year than usual. It was held on Oct. 31. Many activities filled the week before homecoming day, but finally the day came. The floats were finally finished and everyone was eager for the day's many activities. A PEP ASSEMBLY was held and each class put on a SKIT. Then came the parade with its bands, class candidates, floats, and even some clowns. Although the weather was wet it didn't dampen the Trojan's Spirit and the parade was a success. The Trojans went on to succeed by defeating the Bethany Mustangs in the evening game.

SENIORS 1st place skit.

MISS MAROA 1972.

Homecoming in '69 ended with a little bit of MIDNIGHT MADNESS. Reigning over Maroa's homecoming was King Rich Young and Queen Barb McCool.

PROM

THE "GAY 90'S"

MAY 9, 1969, marked the date of the Junior-Senior Prom which was held at SOUTH SIDE Country Club in Decatur. The country club's banquet room was decorated in a typical "GAY 90's" style. There was an old street lamp post in the center of the room with a bicycle built for two sitting beneath it.

The tables were gayly decorated and the favors were BLACK DERBY HATS for the boys and RED AND WHITE GARTERS for the girls.

The dinner menu was TOMATOE JUICE, STEAK, BAKED POTATOES, GREEN BEANS, TOSSED SALAD, PIE and ICE CREAM. Dinner music was furnished by Gary Warnick at the piano. There was also a banjo player, a Barber Shop Quartet, and the RONDO JAZZ QUARTET, which played for the dance.

Mr. Wood and Mr. Brandt were the class sponsors for the Prom and they did a good job. The Prom attendance was great, there were between 80 and 100 people present.

THE "GAY 90's" PROM ended as a GREAT SUCCESS for the Junior and Senior classes ...

CHRISTMAS AT M.F.H.S

Christmas was celebrated at M.F.H.S. with the annual Christmas Concert and Speech Christmas Program.

The Christmas Concert was given December 15, 1969, by the High School Band and Chorus. The Honor Choir also performed. Ruth Craig sang a solo entitled "The Birthday of a King." The highlight of the Band's performance was a rendition of the old children's story "Twas the Night Before Christmas." This selection was narrated by Mary Marsh. Choral numbers included "What Child Is This," "Winter Wonderland," and "O Bambino." The highpoint of the evening was the singing of the "Hallelujah Chorus."

The Speech Christmas Program was on the afternoon of December 19, 1969, by the members of the Speech classes. The program included scenes from Christmas Past, Present, and Future. This program represented a great deal of work and imagination, and it proved to be a very good way to wind up 1969 at Maroa-Forsyth High School.

Maroa's Future Bright

With more than 20 games during a basketball season fans generally expect most coaches to be so bogged down that it would be almost impossible for them to look beyond the next game, let alone to the next season.

But that would be too much to ask of Maroa-Forsyth High School varsity Coach Jack Haines.

With a sophomore team that has a 12-1 record and was 13-0 as freshmen, Haines just can't help but dream about the future.

The loss was 54-52 to Mount Zion Tuesday night.

Doug Faulkner, the 6-foot-4 pivotman, leads the team with a 25 point scoring average including a 42 point performance.

But Faulkner was recently promoted to near full-time varsity duty, thus leaving the sophomores without their consistent scoring threat.

It was a strategic move by Haines.

"I felt it would give our varsity a shot in the arm," Haines said. "Besides, I wanted to find out if these sophomores could win without him."

He was right in the first instance as Faulkner has already given Maroa several double figure scoring nights.

And Faulkner's former teammates made the situation more encouraging by adding three consecutive victories.

Ted Garner, 6-2, moved in to the pivot, to join starting frontliners Charles Young (6-1) and Ed Doak (6-2). The back court is made up of Terry Etnier and John Fenton, a pair of 5-8 sparkplugs.

"A coach has just got to be proud of a group like this," asserted Haines. "They haven't been pushed very often and that's really something considering the fact that they play many of their games against junior-varsity teams that have upperclassmen."

According to Haines, the players have unusual court sense for sophomores.

"They adjusted to each other extremely early," he said. "Each seems to know instinctively what the other can and will do if given the opportunity."

It all adds up to some variety of talent. Doak is the leading rebounder, followed by Garner. Etnier's the hot outcourt shooter while Fenton puts the pressure on defensively in the back line. Young is what Haines calls the "pickup man."

For instance, Young was held to two points by DeLand-Weldon in the first half. Then he came back with a 15-point second half to pick up the sagging offense.

"Of course, it's not just Young who does this kind of stuff," Haines added. "If someone isn't on someone else usually is."

In last week's 80-67 victory over Stonington, Etnier was the "on" man with 22 points. Doak added 15 and reserve Verneil Leggett 11.

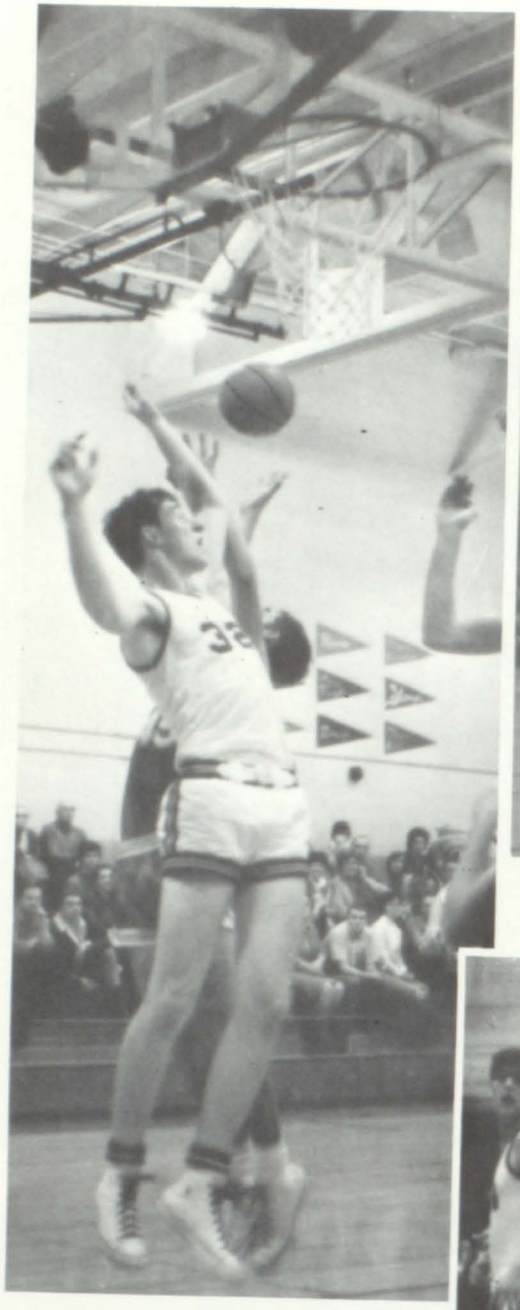
"Leggett has given us some real good games as have Mark Carder and Larry Derling, a pair of reserve guards," said Haines.

"And these kids are just great to work with," he praised. "It's just impossible not to think about the future with a bunch like this around."

BOND

Mark Walters (44) scores 2 points.

Dennis Hamilton (24) is down the floor with the ball.



Steve Gillen (32) is
"UP, UP and AWAY!"
